Instructions:

by Tanya Batrak

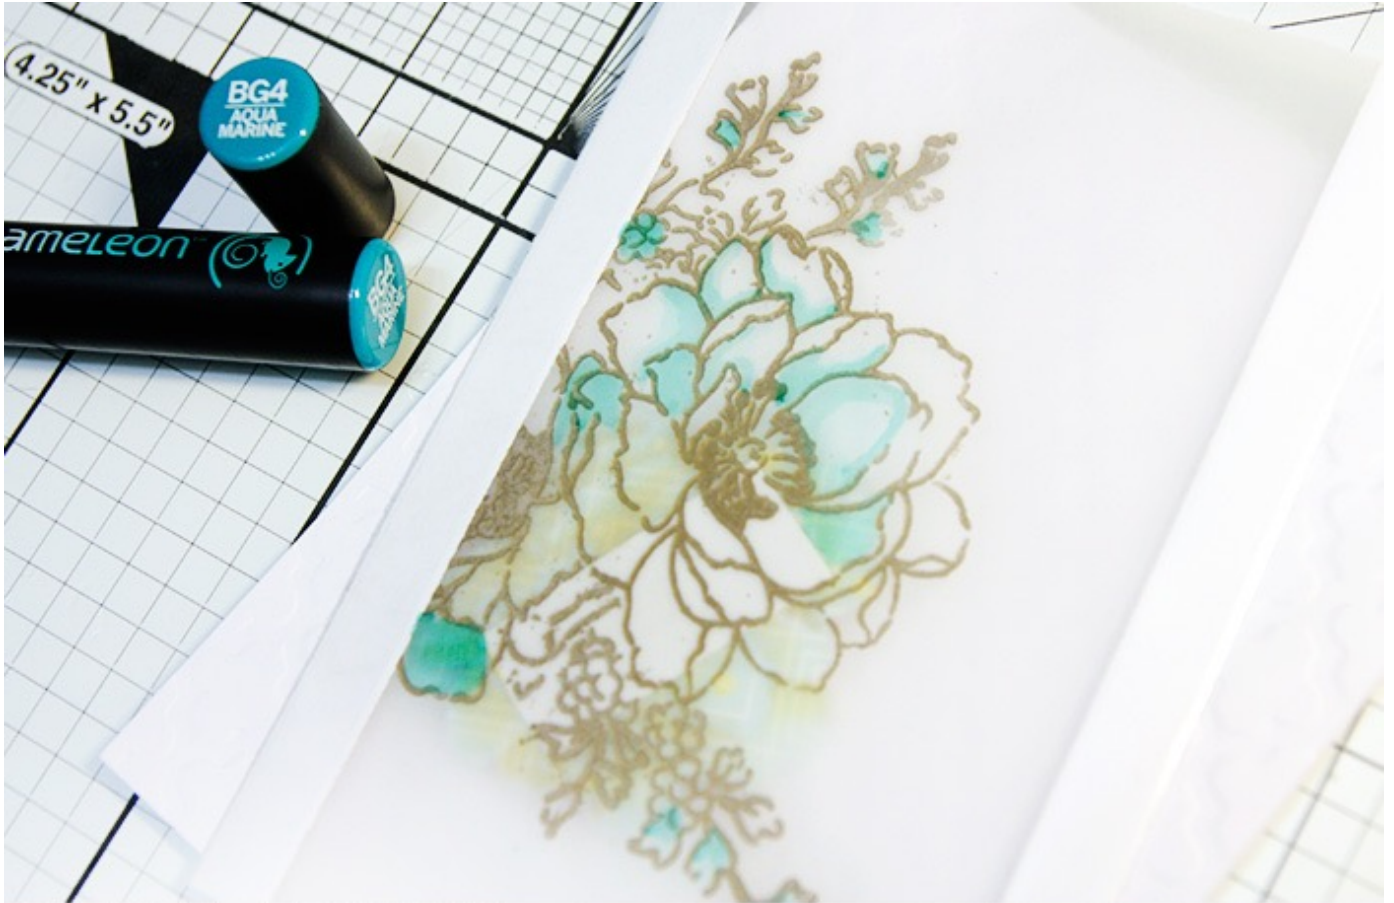

1. Stamp a flower with the embossing ink on a piece of vellum, sprinkle it with gold embossing powder, and heat with the heat tool. Stamp the same flower with the black ink on a scrap piece of paper and cut the image. Use the cut image as a mask to cover the gold embossed flower before stamping the second flower. Use this mask technique to stamp the flower branches.

- Stamp the same flower with the black archival ink on a scrap piece of paper. Color the flower with the brush tip using Warm Sunset infusing each color before coloring for 3 seconds.

3. Flip the piece of vellum with the embossed images and color the flowers with the brush tip using Aqua Marine infusing each color before coloring for 2 seconds. Let it dry. Flip the vellum again and adhere the colored flower using the foam double-sided tape.

4. Add sentiment and some drops with liquid enamel.
